The Aviation Division's client base reflects the global scale and scope of the aerospace industry, from private jet operators to space risks, international flag carriers to sub-component manufacturers, and airport operators to finance and leasing houses.

We have been at the forefront of dealing with the ever-increasing impact of EU and UK Sanctions on our client base and insurers. Importantly, as we have no US parent company, shareholders or US affiliates we are not directly affected by US Sanctions as some of our competitors may be.
